Academic Performance: This year, P. C. School's academic performance was good, with students demonstrating steady progress. The school is in a developmental phase, emphasizing improved teaching strategies and tailored support to help every student achieve their best.

Faculty Development: Professional development remained a priority, with workshops and seminars held to help teachers enhance their instructional skills and incorporate new educational techniques, especially in technology and student engagement. Our teachers also attended a Capacity Building Program (CBP) organized by CBSE to enhance their teaching competencies and stay updated with current educational practices.

Infrastructure Development: We undertook improvements in our school's infrastructure, including updates to our science labs, computer center, and library. Further enhancements are being planned to bolster learning and extracurricular activities in the years ahead.

Extracurricular Activities: Students took part in various sports, arts, literary competitions, cultural and devotional events. Activities like the science exhibition and cluster games promoted hands-on learning and team spirit, providing students with valuable practical experience. Our students also performed a Nukkad Natak to raise awareness about voting and participated in rallies that strengthened the school's cultural roots. In addition, the school celebrated traditions with Mantra, Hawan, Matru- Pitru Pujan Diwas, and yoga activities to encourage physical, mental, and spiritual well-being.

Community Engagement: Our school engaged in community initiatives such as environmental awareness campaigns and health drives. These efforts, in collaboration with local organizations, allowed students and staff to contribute constructively to society.
